

 Prevention of strings' breakage of the Makisu *****

HASEGAWA-Makisu is bound together using "Monofilament" strings, which is similar to that of the fishing line. The material is non water-absorbent and dries immediately after wash, making it very hygienic. However, incorrect use may cause the binding strings to break.

With a good understanding of this characteristic, correct use and exercise care in handling, the HASEGAWA-Makisu can last much longer than conventional ones. Please avoid handling the HASEGAWA-Makisu in the ways as shown in the diagrams below.

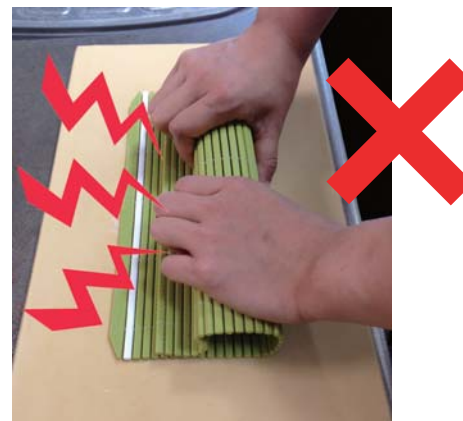

- Avoid direct contact with KNIVES

- Avoid hitting on surfaces to remove water or food deposits

- Avoid applying excessive force to roll sushi

- Avoid cleaning with brush. Use a soft sponge
